

IT Strategy Business and Application Architecture Planning

We help align your IT to your business strategy using a reliable, repeatable process and seasoned analysts to define, engineer, or reengineer the business processes that align to your Business Architecture.

PROVEN SUCCESS

Using our Business and Application Architecture Planning service offering, BACOE defines, documents, and optimizes business processes that align with your business strategy and existing and future applications and needs.

Using modifications and additions to the client's architecture, BACOE designs and develops enhancing approaches to the client's Business Architecture and realigned the operational processes with the clients future systems maintenance and enhancement strategy. This work product provided the client with increased efficiency and reduced redundant work activities as well as higher return on investment (ROI).

BACOE can deliver superior results for your organization using a reliable, repeatable process and seasoned analysts to define, engineer, and re-engineer your business processes so that they align with your business and Business Architecture. We harvest – minimizing business intrusion – artifacts related to materials (data), processes, and goals in addition to providing implementation models that define and document business processes aligned to your organization's Business Architecture.

The BACOE Approach:

- Compatibility with multiple implementation models (including TOGAF, DODAF, FBA, SDDN, if desired)
- Understand of your organizational operations
- Increase efficiency and decreased redundancy
- Prioritized Business Architecture initiatives
- Business Architecture aligned to BA
